About Diabetic Foot Society of India - "DFSI"

Diabetic Foot Society of India - "DFSI" as it is popularly called, is one of the few societies worldwide dedicated to managing the Diabetic Foot. It was founded on 30th March 2002. Since then, DFSI has been at the vanguard of training and sensitizing numerous medical and paramedical personnel through highly structured, innovative and state of the art educational programs all over the country and abroad.

DFSI has single-handedly transformed diabetic foot problems from a wholly neglected complication to one that is now so well attended to by the numerous physicians, surgeons, anesthesiologists and paramedics we have trained over the last 12 years. It is now one of the foremost medical bodies admired for its work on the Diabetic Foot. DFSI has two landmark educational books published, distributed free of cost to more than 10,000 people in the medical fraternity across India. These have become the reference material for all those who work with the diabetic foot.

The efforts of DFSI has resulted in the development of sensitive and standard equipment to measure the neuropathic deficit quantitatively. This has helped guide therapy, measure outcomes, and precisely identify the risks associated with ulceration diabetic foot. Millions of feet have been tested by these instruments creating a solid wave of awareness and care.

DFSI has improved the quality of Diabetic footwear in India by guiding many manufacturers to develop the kind of footwear diabetic feet require according to various well-understood principles. This good quality footwear has been manufactured and marketed across India.

DFSI has conducted 48 one-day workshops under the National Wound Care Program banner sponsored and vetted by the World Diabetes Foundation and Access to Health. The programs were conducted in Medical Colleges and have trained 2000 doctors and nurses in day to day wound management in the diabetic foot.

DFSI has held 18 Annual National Conferences consecutively for the last 18 years. These conferences have brought cutting edge research and newer treatment and diagnostic modalities to India, enhancing the knowledge level of foot practitioners.

Amritsar City Tourist Places

THE GOLDEN TEMPLE

The Golden Temple (also known as the Harmandir Sahib) is a gurdwara located in the city of Amritsar, Punjab, India. It is the preeminent spiritual site of Sikhism.

The gurdwara is built around a man-made pool (sarovar) that was completed by the fourth Sikh Guru, Guru Ram Das, in 1577. In 1604, Guru Arjan placed a copy of the Adi Granth in Harmandir Sahib. The Gurdwara was repeatedly rebuilt by the Sikhs after it became a target of persecution and was destroyed several times by the Mughal and invading Afghan armies. Maharaja Ranjit Singh, after founding the Sikh Empire, rebuilt it in marble and copper in 1809 and overlaid the sanctum with Gold foil in 1830. This has led to the name the Golden Temple.

JALLIANWALA BAGH

Jallianwala Bagh is a historic garden and 'memorial of national importance' close to the Golden Temple complex in Amritsar, Punjab, India, preserved in the memory of those wounded and killed in the Jallianwala Bagh Massacre that occurred on the site on the festival of Baisakhi, 13 April 1919. The 7-acre site houses a museum, gallery and several memorial structures. It is managed by the Jallianwala Bagh National Memorial Trust. It was renovated between 2019 and 2021.

PARTITION MUSEUM

The Partition Museum is a public museum located in the town hall in Amritsar, India. The museum aims to become the central repository of stories, materials, and documents related to the post-partition riots that followed the division of British India into two independent countries: India and Pakistan. The museum was inaugurated on 25 August 2017.

In 1947, British India was divided into India and Pakistan. The partition lines, drawn on a map by the British lawyer Cyril Radcliffe, divided the states of Punjab into West Punjab and East Punjab on the basis of religion. As a result, millions of people found themselves on the wrong side of the border overnight.

WAGAH BORDER

The lowering of the flags ceremony at the Attari-Wagah border is a daily military practice that the security forces of India (Border Security Force, BSF) and Pakistan (Pakistan Rangers) have jointly followed since 1959. The drill is characterized by elaborate and rapid dance-like manoeuvres and raising legs as high as possible, which have been described as "colourful". It is alternatively a symbol of the two countries' rivalry, as well as brotherhood and cooperation between the two nations.

At the international border between India and Pakistan, the pomp and pageantry of the Beating Retreat and the Change of Guard occur within the handshaking distance of the Indian and Pakistani forces. Wagah, an army outpost on the India-Pakistan border between Amritsar and Lahore, is an elaborate complex of buildings, roads and barriers on both sides.

GOBINDGARH FORT

Gobindgarh Fort is a historic military fort located in the center of the city of Amritsar in the Indian state of Punjab. The Fort was until recently occupied by the army but was opened to the public from 10 February 2017. Today the fort is being developed as a museum and theme park, as a repository of Punjab's history. Popularly known as the Bhangian da Killa (fort of the Bhangis) after its 18th century founder belonging to Bhangi Misl of Dhillon Jats rulers. Sandhawalia Jat ruler Maharaja Ranjit Singh renamed it in the early 19th century after the 10th Sikh guru, Guru Gobind Singh.
